Labor Day Weekend Starts Tomorrow

Greenbelt's annual four-day Labor Day Weekend Festival, including such varied items as a full-fledged roller coaster with a 40-foot drop, a nine-mile road race, a table tennis tournament, boxing matches, and an art exhibit, will officially get underway tomorrow night at 7 p.m. at the commercial center.

The highlight of the Festival will be a giant parade on Labor Day morning led by a contingent of U. S. Park Police horsemen, with the possibility that heavy military equipment may be included. The parade will start at 9:30 a.m. from Laurel Hill and Ridge and proceed via Gardenway to the center.

Entries for the table tennis competition, which began Wednesday night, indicate that the finals on Friday will continue until midnight and beyond, with six tables in action simultaneously. The swimming meet on Monday is expected to feature Olympic champions Shelley Mann and Dr. Sammy Lee, with nearly 300 entries already received.

The annual popularity contest will close at 11 p.m. Sunday night when the queen will be announced. An entry not listed in last week's News Review is Marjorie Bowen representing the Greenbelt Pharmacy. The queen and her court will be featured in the parade on Monday.

About 30 local organizations are participating in the Festival, which will be held in the area behind the Center School. In addition to the roller coaster, there will be four other adult rides plus a ferris wheel, and a pony ride. A special feature this year will be a frozen custard stand. One regular feature held again will be the square dance on Saturday night, with Bob McIntyre as caller.

LION'S BOXING TICKETS

Tickets for the Lion's Club big Labor Day Boxing Bouts can be purchased at the Greenbelt Pharmacy or directly from Lions Cormack or Harman at 2883 or 9808. (Adults $1.00, children 50c.)

Auditors Find City's Accounting System Outmoded and Inefficient

by Russ Greenbaum

A sweeping revision of the city's 20-year-old accounting system has been recommended by the auditors who a few months ago performed the annual audit of the city's books.

Presenting their recommendations at the special meeting of the city council held on Monday, Aug. 18, Sidney Rubin, C.P.A., and his associate stated that their review of the city's general books and records showed all receipts and disbursements accurately accounted for but that the bookkeeping system was outmoded, cumbersome, and inefficient.

LUTHERAN KINDERGARTEN

Greenbelt Lutheran Kindergarten will begin on Sept. 4 with morning and afternoon session. There will be a meeting with the parents on Aug. 27 at 8 p.m. to become acquainted with the program for the year. There is still room for those who wish to enroll before the Aug. 27 meeting.

A Christ-centered education is offered. Along with reading readiness, number readiness, music and art appreciation, adjustment to group living and other phases of our educational program. All supplies are included in the $12 monthly tuition fee. Field trips for the children will be arranged during the year.

School is held at the church at 22 Ridge.

GHI Expenses and Income Continue To Keep Within Budgeted Amounts

By Al Skolnik

Operating experience of Greenbelt Homes, Inc. continued to be favorable during the second quarter of 1958, comptroller Roy Breashears told the GHI board of directors at their regular meeting, Thursday, Aug. 14.

Actual income from members and tenants exceeded anticipated income by $1,800 in the April-June quarter; at the same time, operating expenses in connection with the housing units fell below the budgeted amounts by $8,900, leaving the corporation some $10,700 better off than the original forecast. During the first quarter of 1958, the net position of the corporation was some $1,000 better than the budgeted figure.

The combined experience for the first six months of 1958 showed a drop below the budgeted amounts in expenditures for heating ($8,600), repairs and maintenance ($4,300), water ($2,000), and administrative and board costs ($1,400). Offsetting these decreases were rises in city and county taxes ($5,000) and insurance expenses ($2,100). Breashears warned, however, that as the result of the rise in fuel oil prices this month, heating expenditures will probably consume the entire budgeted amount by the end of the year.

Under the new accounting formula adopted at the end of 1957, non-operating expenses exceeded the budgeted amounts (expenses other than monthly charges) and non-operating expenditures (expenses not covered by members' monthly charges) are reported separately in the quarterly fiscal reports.

Both income and expenditures for non-operating purposes exceeded the budgeted amounts for the 6-month period ending June 30, 1958, but the net effect was favorable to the corporation. The amount—$4,300—by which non-operating expenses exceeded the budget forecast was less than the amount—$7,600—by which non-operating income exceeded anticipated income. Almost half of the latter excess was due to increased sales department fees.

Combined operating and non-operating income for the first half of 1958 totaled $588,300, an increase of $13,600 over income for the same period in 1957. Combined operating and non-operating expenses, on the other hand, rose only $3,000 to a total of $575,400 for the six months ending June 30, 1958. The net gain for the corporation before reserves thus amounted to $12,900 after the first six months of operation in 1958, compared with a net gain of $2,300 for a similar period in 1957.

McIntyres To Call Square Dancing Here

Vincent Caruso, chairman of the Square Dance Activity of the Greenbelt Labor Day Festival, reports that Bob McIntyre and his wife, popular square dance callers, have consented to call the tunes at the Greenbelt Labor Day Festival Square Dance on Saturday, at 8:30 p.m., behind the swimming pool. Bob, a well known instructor and recognized caller, has been active the past year in the Fellowship Center of the Community Church.

Kindergarten Plans

There is still time to register your child in the Greenbelt Cooperative Kindergarten. Interested persons are asked to contact either of the vice-presidents—Mrs. Jeanette Yates (North End) at 9576 or Mrs. Pat Perry (Center) at 6368.

School will begin for the Kindergarten on Sept. 10. An important membership meeting will be held on Sept. 2 at 8:30 p.m. in the Social Room of the Center School. All parents are urged to attend. Mrs. Bowman and Mrs. Lemaire, teachers of the North End and Center Schools respectively, will be present to explain the Kindergarten program and to answer any questions.

For all mothers and fathers helping in the Kindergarten, a regulation of the health department requires a chest X-ray. This must be completed before the beginning of school.

JCC REGISTRATION

The Youth School of the Jewish Community Center of Prince Georges County announces that registration for Sunday and Hebrew School will be held on Sunday, Aug. 31 from 10 a.m. to 12 noon, and on Friday, Sept. 5, from 9:30 a.m. to 10:30 a.m., at the JCC Building, Ridge and Westway. This is for children who did not register at the time of advance registration in the spring. Classes will start on Sunday, Sept. 7.

Samuel Vornoff, Principal, is pleased to announce the addition of a special class in Conversational Hebrew, under the leadership of a highly experienced Israeli visitor, Mrs. Zila Halevi.

The auditors felt that "the time, effort, and cost of applying the current system did not appear to be in the best interest of the city." Rubin said that "we have seen indications of areas of no control, areas of over control, instances of excessive paper work, and instances of lack of documentation." They concluded that not only should the system be modernized, simplified, and refined but that there was a need for a "professional inquiry into the financial management needs of the city of Greenbelt."

The auditors proposed that they make a survey of the entire system, which would be necessary before they could make detailed suggestions for improving the system. Such a system would entail some efficiency studies of various city operations, including how long it took city employees to perform certain jobs. They stressed, however, that this would not be a management study and that they would not recommend the firing or hiring of employees.

When pressed for specific examples where improvements could be made, the auditors cited the public works department, where there is no inventory control at present. This means that there is no control over the use of equipment. They indicated that the city was "losing an awful lot of money" because of this.

They also pointed out that there was an excessive number of confirming purchase orders. Ordinarily all purchases made by city department heads are made through the city purchasing agent, Mrs. Winfield McCamy. Wherever possible, the department heads are supposed to issue bids. Occasionally in an emergency they can make the purchase directly and notify the purchasing agent by means of a confirming purchase order.

The auditors said that their review showed that a majority of city purchases were being made by confirming order, by-passing the purchasing agent. City Manager Charles McDonald noted that all department heads are directed to send out bids as much as possible, but Mrs. McCamy indicated they were negligent in doing this.

Another defect of the present system reported by the auditors was that the city treasurer, Mrs. Mabel Kandler, was, through no fault of her own, not performing her duties as set forth in the city charter. Instead of serving as a comptroller, controlling and supervising the expenditure of city funds, she was spending all her time in clerical posting and bookkeeping work. This was requiring her to work a great deal of overtime. A modernized system would free her to serve as a comptroller, they stated.

The council appeared generally in favor of seeing the city's system improved, although somewhat surprised as to the extent to which the auditors planned to go into the city's operations. One councilman pointed out that the job "could be unpleasant." The auditors noted that the job would require them to be on the premises for only about 20 working days. Councilman Ben Goldfaden commented that no previous city council has ever undertaken a study of the city's operations.

Although it was originally assumed that the survey could be made in time to have material available for the annual fall budget discussions, the two men announced that other duties at this time made them unavailable for about three months. It was decided that they would notify the council when they would be free to take on the job.

Meanwhile, the auditors agreed to install immediately a new type of payroll accounting system which would cut down the time required to make the payroll from a few days to three or four hours. They will also put in some refinements in the accounting books.

School Opens Thursday Recreation Review

By Warren Leddick
9 Mile Road Race

High Point High School will open on Thursday, Sept. 4 as a senior high school with a faculty of 61 teachers and approximately 1500 students in grades ten, eleven, and twelve. With the completion of the Buck Lodge Junior High School, High Point has been relieved of its junior high school sections.

Students, who have moved into the High Point school area since the close of school in June and who will be enrolled in the tenth, eleventh, or twelfth grades, are urged to register in the high school office before the opening day of school. The school office will open from nine to four o'clock on Aug. 29, Sept. 2 and 3 for registration.

A change has been made in the opening day of school this year. In the past school has been in session for a half day of school. This school year it has been decided on a county level that all junior and senior high students shall be in school the entire day on Thursday, Sept. 4. Since class rolls have been completed and class loads have been balanced, each class the opening day will begin its year's work in earnest and assignments will be made. It is therefore important that students be in attendance that first day, and come prepared to work. The school cafeteria will serve lunch the first day of school, and it will be necessary to increase the price of the hot lunch a nickel, to 35c, to meet the increased cafeteria costs.

Student schedules for the new school year have been individually completed by the administrative staff this summer. Incoming tenth graders from the Greenbelt Junior High School will report to the school cafeteria for their homeroom and class assignments cards. Students who previously attended High Point will return to their last year's homeroom to obtain their schedule cards.

The bus schedule and stops for the Greenbelt area will be the same as the past school year. School buses will leave each morning from Hillside and Crescent, the North End School, and from the Greenbelt Center at 8:15 a.m. for High Point.

The New Lakewood Rambler Is

furnished and decorated by

of Rockville

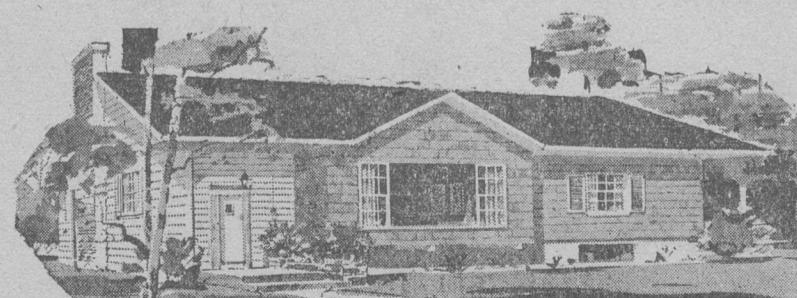

This week-end, when you attend the 1958 Greenbelt Festival, be sure to visit the new model homes at Lakewood on Ridge Road. W. Evans Buchanan, the builder, selected Jackmar's of Rockville to decorate the homes with furniture from America's most famous manufacturers. Maurice E. Blanco, Jacmar's head decorator is Washington's leading designer of interiors for private residences, builders, and commercial firms. He uses colors superbly . . . coordinating them in subtle tones and combining them with smart furniture to give you a pleasant, comfortable home for "living" rather than a stiff, formal place for "show". You are invited to consult with Mr. Blanco about your decorating problems and also see the impressive collection of modern and traditional furniture at Jacmar's.
